Coercion
Department of Philosophy
International Conference
Nov. 28th – Nov. 30th, 2013
Organized by ERC-Project
“Distortions of Normativity”
Department of Philosophy,
University of Vienna

For further information visit:
http://distortions.univie.ac.at or contact andrea.perchthaler@univie.ac.at

Thursday, Nov. 28th
NIG, Lecture room 2i
17:00 – 19:00
Arthur Ripstein (Toronto):
Normativity, Externality
and Unconditionality:
Kant's Juridical Imperatives
Joint Lecture with the “Philosophy Lectures Series”
organized by Martin Kusch, Hans Bernhard Schmid and Friedrich Stadler.

Friday, Nov. 29th
NIG, Lecture room 3C
09:00 – 10:30
Sorin Bălăsă (Vienna/Keele):
Normativity, Externality
and Unconditionality:
Kant's Juridical Imperatives
10:45 – 12:15
Heiner Klemme (Mainz):
Right, Obligation and Duty in Kant’s ‘Doctrine of Right’
14:00 – 15:30
Christoph Hansich (Vienna):
Kant on Democracy
15:45 – 17:15
Paul Guyer (Brown, Rhode Island):
Setting and Pursuing Ends:
The Relation between Internal and External Freedom
17:30 – 19:00
Herlinde Pauer-Studer (Vienna):
Kantian Contractualism and the Relations between Internal and External Freedom

Saturday, Nov. 30th
NIG, Lecture room 3E
09:00 – 11:00
Bernd Ludwig (Göttingen):
Animals, Humans and Persons.
On the Close Connection between Freedom and Coercion
in Kant’s Metaphysics of Morals
11:15 – 12:45
Alice Pinheiro-Walla (Dublin):
Common Ownership of the Earth and Provisional Right
13:00 – 14:30
Sharon Byrd (Erlangen):
Provisional and Peremptory
Rights in the ‘Doctrine of Right’