About the organizations
The Research Group “Financial Crises” of the Österreichische Forschungsgemeinschaft provides a regular forum for scholarly research on issues related to this topic from a variety of perspectives. In particular it offers a discussion forum for young researchers to present early work and to network with senior colleagues researching related topics.

The Center for Accounting Research at the University of Graz promotes the development of accounting theory and to accounting practice, such as informing accounting standard setting and the application of management accounting instruments. CAR specializes on quantitative economic research methods, in particular analytical and empirical research.
